

Eng. 8
Tuesday
December 15
10:00

exaggerate, groggy, glut, second nature, tense, defensive, take a toll on, handy, honestly, account for, keep in mind, go overboard, stick to, gravitate towards, open up doors, get out of hand, rehash, inconsiderate, recall, bomb, snooze, be fed up with, arrogant, conceivable, sympathetic,

It's a good idea to _____ the plan. If you don't follow the plan, things can _____ fast.

My friend often _____, so it's difficult to know if what he says is true.

My friend didn't study, so he _____ the test.

_____, I never listen to a word he says: lying is _____ to him.

There seems to be a _____ of coffee shops. I wonder how they all stay in business.

My cell phone is incredibly _____. I can do so many things with it.

My friend drives everyone crazy when he _____ old arguments. We _____ him.

Things are _____ between Mr. Kim and Mr. Lee. I hope there isn't a fight.

Since I started working at night, I feel _____ all the time. Working the night shift has _____ my quality of life.

My friend becomes _____ when I criticize his bad cooking.

My cousin is so _____. He thinks he is special because he graduated from Harvard.

My brother and I _____ for our parents' wedding anniversary. We invited 100 guests to a fancy restaurant.

I don't know what _____ his very strange behavior.

It's _____ that people can live on the Moon but it's going to take a lot of effort.

After a heavy lunch, I sometimes take a _____.

Please _____ that you must wear a mask on public transportation.

It's easy for me to recognize faces but it hard for me to _____ names.

It's hard to be _____ to people who are _____ of other people's feelings.

It's true that graduating from a SKY university can _____.

People usually _____ those they share something in common.

Please answer in 2 to 3 sentences.

When don't you want people to be straightforward with you?

Which one of the articles (not the in textbook) taught you the most?

What kind of people do you seek out?

What class at Mokwon has not been worth it?

When have you felt pushed to the brink?

What is crucial for your well-being?

Is it better to be audacious or prudent?

When were you out of luck?

What has this class made you more curious about?

What should I keep in mind when I prepare your grade?