

Upload Answers on Monday.

English Grammar Quiz, March 30, 2021.

Use the verbs in parentheses in the correct tense to fill in the blanks.

(1) I study (study) English at Mokwon University. I have been (be) a student here for 2 years, but I have been studying (study) English since I was in middle school. By the time I graduate, I will have studied (study) English for half my life.

(2) Last summer I went (go) to Japan. I had a great time because I had never been (never/be) abroad before. It was so good that I think I will visit (visit) there again.

(3) This weekend I am going to see (see) my parents. I usually visit (visit) them once a month. While I am there, I am definitely meeting (meet) my friend on Saturday night.

Write the question.

(1) What will you be doing tonight at 9:00 ?
I will be studying at home.

(2) Do you have any plans for this evening ?
I might stay at home tonight.

(3) Have you finished your homework ?
No, I haven't finished my homework yet.

(4) What are you doing ?
I am preparing for class.

(5) Would you like to live in Seoul ?
I could never live there because I don't like crowded places.

Write sentences using these words.

since I have been waiting since noon.

already I have already had lunch.

10:00 a.m. I teach every Tuesday starting at 10:00.

How long How long have you known her?

next semester I might go abroad next semester.

every Monday I exercise every Monday.

Correct the mistakes.

I have been knowing him for 2 years. I have known him....

This is tasting strange. This tastes strange.

I have never could understand math. I have never been able to understand math.

He got a scholarship. He can be a very good student.

He must be a very good student.