

Conversation 6/24 10:00-12:00

persistent, as a matter of fact, decisive, irate, the ins and the outs, toss and turn, make waves, chances are, likewise, offensive, fit in, provoke, patience, a ton of, awkward, know for a fact, upbeat, multitasking, bump into, determined

My boss is very _____. He has no _____ for employees who can't express themselves clearly.

My friend is shy; therefore, he tries to _____ rather than _____.

Chocolate ice cream is fantastic; _____, strawberry is pretty good, too.

_____, I don't own a car and I have no intention to buy one.

My friend becomes _____ very easily, so I try not to _____ him.

If you _____, _____ you will succeed.

My friend is good at _____, but I need to focus in order to be effective.

I think it is _____ to interrupt people while they are explaining something.

I am _____ to learn _____ of crypto currencies. I want to be rich.

I _____ a classmate from elementary school. it was a little _____ because neither of us could remember the other's name.

Last night it was so hot that I _____.

I have _____ work to do before I can enjoy summer vacation.

There are vaccines and the economy is getting better; things are looking _____.

I _____ he cheated because I saw him do it.

Conversation

Answer in 2-3 sentences.

What is bothering you and how are you dealing with it?

When have you put yourself in someone's shoes?

Use a non-defining relative clause as a sentence modifier (p. 67) to describe what job is best for you.

Unlike my best friend,

Use relative clauses (p. 63) to describe three qualities that a successful person possesses?

Conversation

Wouldn't it be awful if

Use the passive voice (p. 55) to describe university education in Korea in 2040.

What had you never done before you entered Mokwon?

I have a hunch that

Which one of the extra readings I gave you taught you the most?

How can I make this class better?