

Use these words correctly in order to fill in the blanks tons of, severe, hang out, affect, lucrative, loggerheads, drastic, work out, smorgasbord, skeptical, impose, backlash, provocative, ban, extracurricular, grueling, exacerbate, circumstances, discouraging, the norm

COVID-19 has _____ everyone, especially university students. For example, we have not had _____ activities like MT.

My friends and I like to _____ outdoors when the weather is good.

Reading the news is sometimes _____; there is so much trouble in the world.

Some governments have (1) _____ (2) _____ lockdown policies in order to limit the spread of COVID-19.

When I was in high school, math class was _____ because I had _____ of homework.

I think the government should _____ cigarettes, but it won't because they are too _____.

Because many people are _____ of the government's plan, I think there will be a _____.

If the _____ aren't right, the plan won't _____.

----- criticism usually ----- a problem. It is better to remain calm and not be -----.

Those two are often at ----- because they don't see eye-to-eye on many issues.

Life is a ----- . Let's dig in!

He's a weird guy. What he believes in is outside the -----.

Answer the following questions in detail.

Do you think it is important to follow the news?

What has been the most interesting article we have read in this class?

In your opinion, what is the least reliable news source in Korea?

After reading, "How COVID-19 has affected campus life in Korea," what would you like to say to Lee Hyo-jin, the reporter?

Do you think it is important to know about the Chinese government's reforms of education policy?

What did you learn after reading, "Inside South Korea's Competitive Blind Dating Culture?"

Do you think the Democratic Party should pass it's anti fake news bill without People Power Party support?

What do you want to say to President 문 after reading, "Children set for more climate disasters than their grandparents?"

In your opinion, why did the 경향신문 report on borderline intelligence functioning?

What kind of articles do you want to read about in this class after midterms?